T VP Debate: JD Vance v. Tim Walz

[Surprisingly cordial. Walz responded well to JD's amiable, cheerful/upbeat demeanor, Walz started nervous but reach a good stride after ~2 min.s.

JD doesn't realize ^{that} ~~how~~ socialism forces (2) people to do (via govt.) what they should do voluntarily (e.g. charities). Walz is an extreme Socialist. The closing question was to trip JD about Tr's claim of 2020 being a rigged election. JD is naïve / timid on that point—oblivious to the depth of the conspiracy against free America / righteousness.]

- + • Walz: "Matt. 25:40 whoever does it unto the least of these"
- + • Ad: "He gets us, Jesus." [During debate ☺]
- [Both JD & Tim were wearing the ^{same} Am. Flag pin at the same location on their jacket—symbolic of the congeniality they shared—perhaps as a positive symbol of Americans coming together.]
- [NTD] "Vance gave best VP debate performance in history."—Tr. campaign [Walz was close in quality (A not philosophy)]

CORE. Class: Balance

- Q. List 5 things to keep you in balance (went around room).
me? In my list, the one that encompasses it all is to be ~~aller~~ all-in, synced up—getting guidance from inner voice / conscience in all you do.

Seminar: "Incarceration to Inspiration"—'Prime Minister', (Buk Buk) [I complimented him on having the courage to write "Prime Minister," saying I could see him becoming PM of a country. Earlier, he asked the class ~how one can change. I said, "Follow your conscience / intuition / inner voice." Buk Buk replied that a few minutes later, owning it.]
