Chris' Meltdown

Sat. evening, ^{my friend} "Christian Fairbanks" ^(said he) was in a class in the chapel that was being repeatedly hijacked by a couple of inmates who were being toxically negative in their comments/sentiments. With 10 mins left, he felt impressed to ask to play a song on the piano. The volunteer/teacher welcomed that. This quickly brought peace, a welcome relief from the tension. Then, Brian, a clerk, opened the door and contextously berated him for playing the piano ("not allowed" / letter of the law). Today, as we reported this to Bro. Layton, expecting empathy, Chris grew very upset as Bro. Layton seemed to take the side of "follow the rules" (like a Nazi, regarding of context / need / common sense, following the Spirit). He was so worked up, he was asking to be removed from membership in the Church. I pointed out that next week we are poised to sing "You Raise Me Up" in Church, which could have huge benefit for ^{good} ~~good~~, and that Satan wants to derail it, and that he needs to reign in his ^{negative} energy. He After ~5 mins, he did calm down and realize he should apologize. & The chapel went on IMS lock-down, so we (~5 of us) were able to sing hymns extemporaneously in chapel 2A for a couple of hours, synchronistically in line with the ~~at~~ blog article I wrote this morning, "How I Imagine Extemporaneous Ensemble Manifesting Here in Prison."

Huge Unveiling of Scriptural ^{Restoration} Preservation Significance by Sanzitha

Following up with Sam about last night's conversation for this "Daily" series, I went to ask him about a couple of things and ended up having a long conversation.

He re-read II Esdras 14:20-22, 39-46 that says that 3 when the Jews were taken captive to Babylon, all their records were destroyed/burnt. They had no scriptures. Concerned about the ramifications, Esdras prayed that the Spirit might come on him to be able to remember the scriptures and the law given to Moses. He then basically "downloaded" (to use modern vernacular) the entire Old Testament up to that time (Nahum). ~~II Esdras~~ Most of that became the apocryphal book of Tasher. The reason the Jews didn't want to include Esdras in their canon was because it reflected poorly on their devotion, as well as the discomfort they had with the idea that what they were now considering "scripture" came through this download process, not via scribes relaying original records.

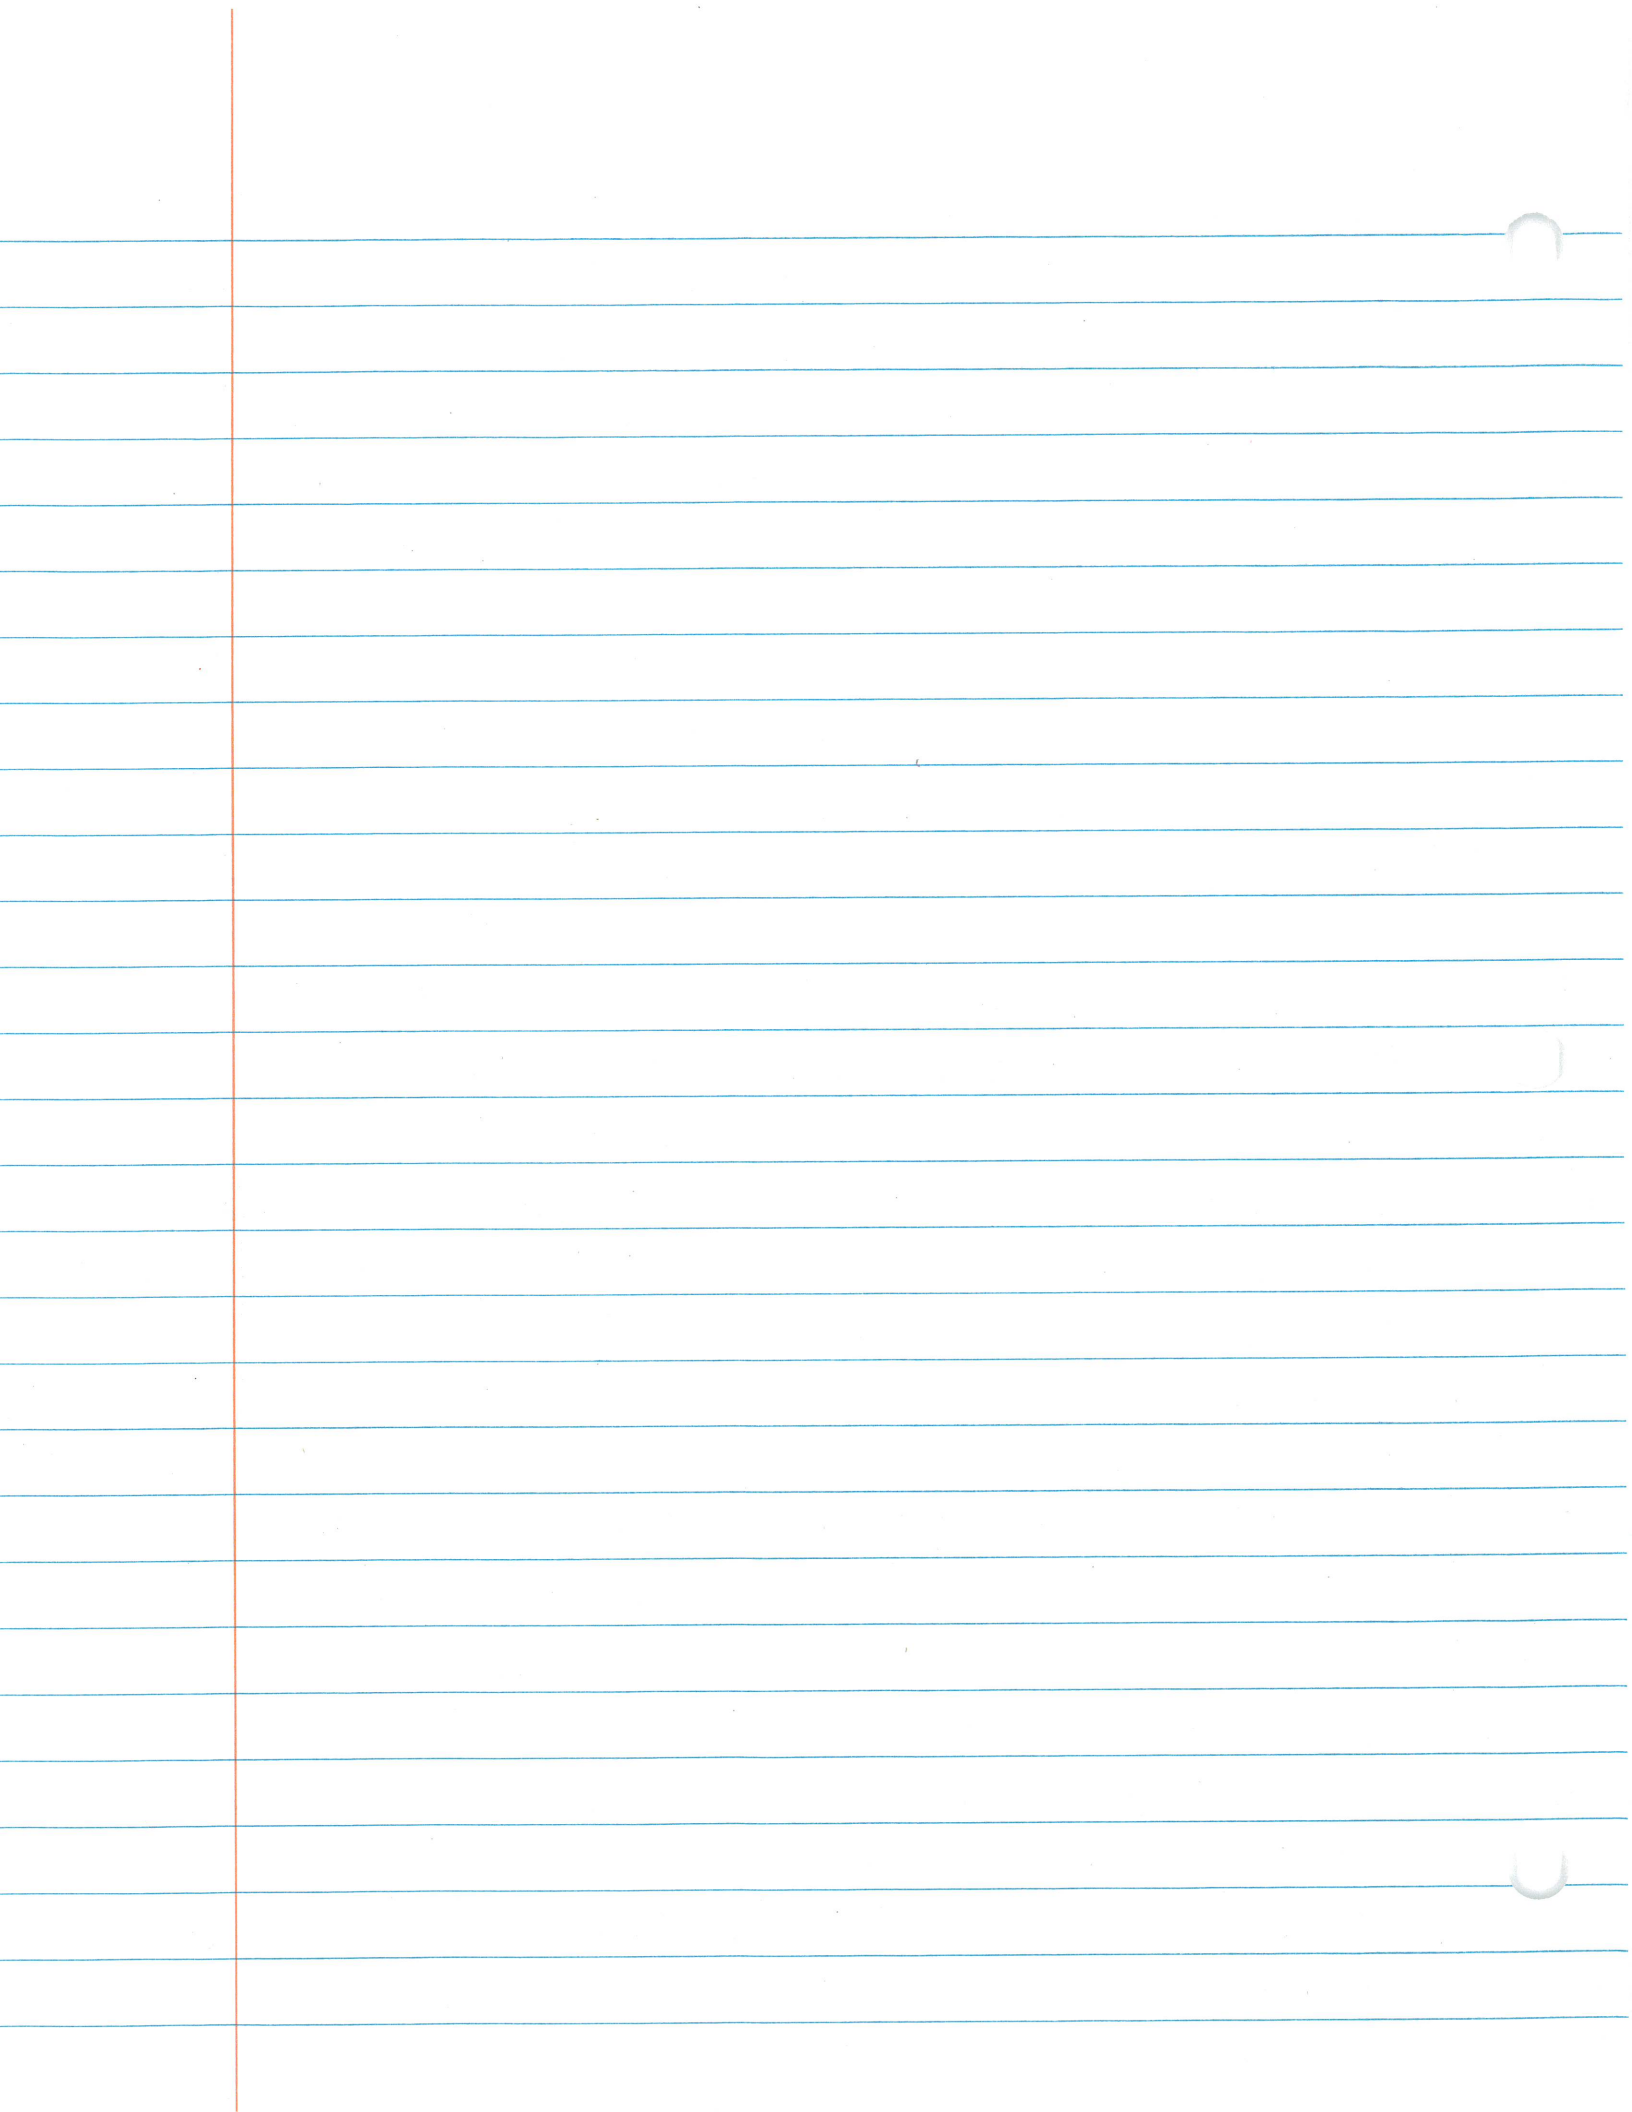

So, it could be said that Esdras is to the O.T. what J.S. was to the BoFM. You would think this would be widely known, yet I've never heard it before. It's a hidden treasure that Sam realized in Jan. 19-29, 2022

I did some AB analysis that gives strong credence to the significance of these things, which I plan to compose into a ^{blog} article prob. 11/11 "SamZiwa Unveils that we would not have the OT w/o Esdras - AB witnesses of the significance of Tasher." First, briefly, "Tasher" H3477 is immediately juxtaposed with "H3478 Israel" - a key name/concept of scripture. Second, that same number, def. G 3477 in the NT derives from H5051, which is ^{in AB} erroneously duplicated in H5052, putting a spotlight on it. Third, H3477 derives from "H3474 right, prosperous", which is verbatim to some of the meanings of "H6666 rightness, justice, ^{prosperity} virtue: - right, righteousness..." (See my 1/20/2022 Editorial: "Reform Judicial System; H6666")

☐ over a 40-day-and-night span with 5 scribes that probably included Daniel, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abdiago.

Me: A: "Sam Shaffer and Chris Fairbanks; I can't think of another of 'bestie' status."

"But as for generally speaking, I'd say all of you."

[There was/wore a strong feeling of camaraderie among the ~20 inmates present in the MPR room: friendly/brotherly — a fruit of this SOLID community program.] Until this session, I'd never felt anything close to this ^{in a small group (outside of Institute)} in my near 9 years of incarceration.]

I commented how this is consistent with what is prophesied to happen in r.c. in Isa. 66:8 & Zech. 3:9, [which could unfold in weeks from now (M → O)]. Inmate Daniel, in reading past 66:8 said, "This is describing now! We could do this!"

I pointed out that Msh. 5:6 says that ~~the~~ the one voice event of vs. 2-5 was as "King Benjamin desired of them." I see the same occurring in the 2 Chron. 7:14 Prayer Event (Isa 66:8 & Zech 3:9). Daniel expressed gratitude for the recent election results that were nothing short of a manifestation of God's grace being poured out [on a repenting people].
